

Study programme

Part A) of the study programme *

Learning outcomes

Faculty offering the field of study:	Faculty of Political Science and Security Studies
Field of study:	International Politics and Diplomacy
Level of study:	second cycle studies
Level of the Polish Qualifications Framework:	level 7
Degree profile:	general academic
Professional degree awarded to the graduate:	magister
Allocation of the field of study within academic or artistic discipline(s), to which learning outcomes for a given field of study refer:	Disciplines: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Political Science (80%)</li> <li>- Security Studies (20%)</li> </ul> Major discipline: Political Science
Symbol	Upon completion the graduate achieves the learning outcomes specified below:
KNOWLEDGE (the graduate knows and understands)
K_W01	The graduate has profound/ in-depth knowledge about the objective and methodological character of international politics and their interdisciplinary specificity related to political science and security studies.
K_W02	The graduate has systematic knowledge about political and military international relations.
K_W03	The graduate has systematic knowledge about international justice system.
K_W04	The graduate knows and understands key principles of intellectual property management as well as the necessity of respecting those rules in academic work.
K_W05	The graduate has profound/in-depth knowledge about internal and external relations in Europe, especially about the EU.
K_W06	The graduate has detailed knowledge about the role and importance of diplomatic establishments and the way they function.
K_W07	The graduate has profound/in-depth knowledge about the rights of the individual and communities on the international arena.
K_W08	The graduate has detailed knowledge about international relations affecting security.
SKILLS (the graduate is capable of)
K_U01	The graduate is able to search for, select, analyse and process information from written and electronic sources, and interpret it in terms of problems in international operations of different subjects/entities.
K_U02	The graduate is able to describe political, economic and social processes in international relations.
K_U03	The graduate is able to identify argumentation strategies applied in social sciences, also with the use of ICT tools.
K_U04	The graduate is able to use the social sciences knowledge in order to describe and analyse international problems.
K_U05	The graduate is able to coherently discuss international issues, using the achievements of political science and security studies (at the B2+ level or higher).
K_U06	The graduate is able to plan and lead the team work.

K_U07	The graduate is able to plan and implement the self-study process, both for himself/ herself and other persons.
K_U08	The graduate is able to carry out extensive research following the instructions of their academic supervisor.
K_U09	The graduate is able to use the acquired knowledge in practical situations connected to functioning of diplomatic and consular institutions.
K_U10	The graduate is able to analyse and interpret international legal rules and regulations.
SOCIAL COMPETENCES (the graduate is willing to)
K_K01	The graduate is ready to autonomously and critically evaluate the information related to international diplomatic operations also undertaken in the field of security.
K_K02	The graduate correctly identifies and solves moral and ethical problems related to their work and is ready for professional development.
K_K03	The graduate is ready for professional challenges and willingly undertakes them; the graduate is Active.
K_K04	The graduate is ready to participate in the preparation and realisation of social projects, also in the context of international cooperation.
K_K05	The graduate is able to think and act in an entrepreneurial and creative manner.

Part B) of the study programme

Description of the process resulting in the achievement of learning outcomes

Faculty offering the field of study:	Faculty of Political Science and Security Studies
Field of study:	International Politics and Diplomacy
Level of study:	second cycle studies
Level of the Polish Qualifications Framework:	level 7
Degree profile:	general academic
Allocation of the field of study within academic or artistic discipline(s), to which learning outcomes for a given field of study refer:	Disciplines: - Political Science (80%) - Security Studies (20%) Major discipline: Political Science
Mode of study:	full-time programme
Number of semesters:	4
Number of ECTS required for the award of qualifications corresponding to the level:	120
Total number of teaching hours:	800
Professional degree awarded to the graduate:	magister
The relationship between the study programme and NCU mission and strategy:	„International Politics and Diplomacy” is designed to help to accomplish the NCU strategic goal. „International politics and diplomacy” is designed to help to accomplish the NCU operational goals: 1) „Science” Field: 1.1.3. and 1.1.5. 2) „Education” Field: 2.1.1., 2.1.2., 2.1.4., 2.1.7. and 2.2.1. 3) „Management” Field: 3.1.1. and 3.2.7.

Courses/course modules along with expected learning outcomes ***

Course module	Course	Expected learning outcomes	Forms and methods of teaching ensuring the achievement of learning outcomes ....	Methods of verifying and assessing expected learning outcomes achieved by the student
Course module I: International Relations in European Perspective	International courts and tribunals: theory and practice	Knowledge: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate has profound and systematic knowledge about international relations of both political and military nature from a European perspective</li> <li>- The graduate has systematic knowledge about European internal and external relations with important for Europe partners within political and military field</li> <li>- The graduate has knowledge about international legal institutions as well as European legal achievements in this respect</li> </ul> Skills: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate can look up information on international legal institutions from traditional and digital sources in a foreign language and use it to describe social and political processes in international relations including a European perspective</li> <li>- The graduate can make use of the acquired knowledge in</li> </ul>	Lectures, classes, public speaking, papers, brainstorming, observation, projects, discussion, case study, talk, description WebQuest.	Discussion: on-going evaluation, tests, quizzes, written papers, multimedia presentations, graded credit, examination
	Middle East in international relations
	Strategic partnerships of the European Union
	European system of human rights
	International diplomatic and consular law
	International military relations

		the analysis and interpretation of legal acts of international nature <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate can describe the influence of international legal institutions on relations among countries as well as other subjects</li> </ul> Social competences: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate is ready for independent and more importantly critical searching the information about the functioning of international legal institutions</li> <li>- The graduate recognises contemporary ethical dilemmas connected with judicature of international legal institutions</li> </ul>
Course module II: International Relations in Security Sphere	European security system	Knowledge: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate has profound and systematic knowledge about international security</li> <li>- The graduate has systematic knowledge about contemporary threats resulting from technological changes</li> </ul>	Lectures, classes, public speaking, papers, projects, discussion, case study, talk, Socratic method, description, classic problem method, panel.	Discussion: on-going evaluation, tests, quizzes, written papers, multimedia presentations, graded credit, examination
	Contemporary just war theory
	Cybersecurity in contemporary world
	Energy security in Europe

	Peace-building and human security	and shrinking natural resources <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate has systematic knowledge in the field of energy security and actions undertaken by states in this matter</li> </ul> Skills: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate can identify and describe processes affecting the level of international security</li> <li>- The graduate can present and asses actions taken by international subjects in a range of building security (e.g., cybersecurity)</li> </ul> Social competences: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate is ready to contemplate ethical issues concerning military actions</li> <li>- The graduate is ready to evaluate all kind of actions taken by international subjects</li> <li>- The graduate is ready to search for the connections between local community security and global security</li> </ul>
	European integration and values in political and social life

Course module III: Contemporary Political Science	Main political conflicts - contemporary perspective	Knowledge: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate has profound knowledge about contemporary political conflicts</li> <li>- The graduate has systematic knowledge about contemporary political systems functioning in Western democracies as well as tensions within them</li> <li>- The graduate has knowledge about sociological and psychological conditions of political and military relations</li> </ul> Skills: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate can make use of knowledge about sociology or psychology to describe and analyse international political problems</li> <li>- The graduate can present the essence of contemporary international relations based on traditional as well as digital sources</li> <li>- The graduate can present international events or relations in comparative perspective</li> </ul> Social competences: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate is ready for active participation in terms of, e.g., gathering source information</li> <li>- The graduate is ready to follow ethical standards (e.g.,</li> </ul>	Lectures, classes, public speaking, papers, projects, discussion, case study, talk, description.	Discussion: on-going evaluation, tests, quizzes, written papers, multimedia presentations, graded credit, examination
	Psychological and sociological aspects of politics
	Political systems and dilemmas of Western democracies

		during comparative analysis the graduate objectively presents the opposing views)
Course module IV: Political Science in Practice	Political philosophy in practice	Knowledge: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate has detailed knowledge about diplomatic establishments, their roles, meaning and functioning</li> <li>- The graduate has knowledge about international negotiations in certain fields, for example, climate changes or human rights</li> <li>- The graduate has knowledge about main contemporary philosophical issues</li> </ul> Skills: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate can use basic principles of diplomatic protocol</li> <li>- The graduate can fulfil different roles in public debate</li> <li>- The graduate can choose argumentative strategies and apply them creatively</li> </ul> Social competences: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate correctly sees moral and ethical issues concerning public debate</li> <li>- The graduate is ready to attend official events and take part in public appearances, he or she creatively adjusts to new situations</li> </ul>	Lectures, classes, public speaking, papers, observation, projects, discussion, case study, talk, description, WebQuest, Oxford debate, Socratic method.	Discussion: on-going evaluation, tests, quizzes, written papers, multimedia presentations, graded credit, examination
	Image building and protocol with ceremonial rules in politics and diplomacy
	Global climate negotiations
	International human rights monitoring mechanisms
	Argumentation and public debate
Course module V:	Political scientist research workshop	Knowledge: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate has profound</li> </ul>	Description, narrating, talk, informative lecture, discussion	Discussion, on-going evaluation, quizzes, written

Research	Master's diploma seminar	knowledge about methodology in the field of political and administrative sciences as well as security studies <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate knows legal regulations concerning the protection of intellectual property</li> </ul> Skills: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate can design his or her own research</li> <li>- The graduate follows the legal regulations concerning the protection of intellectual property</li> <li>- The graduate can find, select and process the information connected with a specific research topic</li> <li>- The graduate can use ICT tools in his or her research</li> <li>- The graduate can plan and do his or her own research with small participation of the tutor</li> <li>- The graduate can present his research thesis in a logical and coherent way</li> </ul> Social competences: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate is ready to follow and in fact does follow legal regulations concerning the protection of intellectual property</li> <li>- The graduate is ready for creative, sometimes unconventional problems solving in the field of research</li> </ul>	lecture, problem-solving lecture, biographical method, classical problem method, observation, project, case study, methods of presenting content, cooperative method, seminar etc.	papers, MA thesis, graded credit, examination
-----------------	---------------------------------	---	---	--

		- The graduate is ready to face challenges connected with research projects
Course module VI: Facultative courses	Facultative discussion courses	Knowledge: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate has knowledge about the chosen lecture or discussion course</li> <li>- The graduate defines and explains the key terms from this lecture or discussion course</li> <li>- The graduate acquires profound knowledge about political and administrative sciences as well as security studies</li> </ul> Skills: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate improves his or her skills of making written and spoken opinions</li> <li>- The graduate masters his or her knowledge of a foreign language at B2+ level</li> <li>- The graduate can integrate his or her knowledge from various fields including the extra knowledge outside the studied course</li> </ul> Social competences: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate independently and critically improves his knowledge by, for example, choosing his or her facultative course</li> <li>- The graduate develops his or her interests</li> <li>- The graduate upgrades his or</li> </ul>	Lectures, discussion courses, public speaking, papers, projects, case study, talk, description.	University lectures: depends on the Faculty organizing them. Courses: discussion: on-going evaluation, tests, quizzes, written papers, multimedia presentations, graded credit
	University lectures

		her skills in terms of interdisciplinary aspect by choosing university lectures
Course module VII: Foreign language	Foreign language (German / French / Russian)	Skills: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The graduate can communicate using specialized terminology</li> <li>- The graduate takes part in public debates – presents and assesses different opinions and discusses them</li> <li>- The graduate can speak English at B2+ level of Common European Framework of Reference for Languages</li> <li>- The graduate understands all main issues related to the field of study and other forms of academic and professional Displays</li> </ul>	Decision of NCU Foreign Languages Centre	Discussion: on-going evaluation, tests, quizzes, written papers, examination

Internships

Duration of internships	Not applicable.
Form of internships
Rules of internships

Detailed allocation of ECTS credits

Academic or artistic disciplines, to which learning outcomes refer:

	Artistic or academic discipline	ECTS credits
		number	%
1.	Political Science	81	80%
2.	Security Studies	20	20%

Course modules	Course	No of ECTS credits	No of ECTS credits in the discipline: (enter names of disciplines)			No of ECTS credits for elective courses	No of ECTS credits obtained by the student in classes within contact hours with the teacher or tutor	No of ECTS credits obtained by the student as a result of: courses related to academic activity within a discipline or disciplines, to which the field of study is assigned
			Political Science	Security Studies	# Other
Course module I: International Relations in European Perspective	International courts and tribunals: theory and practice	3	2	-	1	-	1	3
	Middle East in international relations	4	3	1	-	-	2	4
	Strategic partnerships of the European Union	4	4	-	-	-	2.5	4
	European system of human rights	4	2	-	2	-	2	4
	International diplomatic and consular law	3	3	-	-	-	1.5	3
	International military relations	4	2	2	-	-	2	4
Course module II: International Relations in Security Sphere	European security system	4	2	2	-	-	2.5	4
	Contemporary just war theory	4	3	1	-	-	2	4

	Cybersecurity in contemporary world	3	2	1	-	-	1	3
	Energy security in Europe	5	3	2	-	-	2	5
	Peace-building and human security	3	2	1	-	-	1.5	3
	European integration and values in political and social life	4	4	-	-	-	2.5	4
Course module III: Contemporary Political Science	Main political conflicts - contemporary perspective	3	3	-	-	-	1	3
	Psychological and sociological aspects of politics	5	3	-	2	-	2.5	5
	Political systems and dilemmas of Western democracies	4	4	-	-	-	2.5	4
Course module IV: Political Science in Practice	Political philosophy in practice	4	4	-	-	-	2.5	4
	Image building and protocol with ceremonial rules in politics and diplomacy	4	3	-	1	-	2	4
	Global climate negotiations	4	4	-	-	-	2	4
	International human rights monitoring mechanisms	2	1	-	1	-	1	2
	Argumentation and public debate	2	1	-	1	-	1	2
Course module V: Research	Political scientist research workshop	4	4	-	-	-	2	4
	Master's diploma seminar	12	12	-	-	12	7.5	12
Course module VI:	Facultative discussion	20	10	10	-	20	10	20

Facultative courses	courses (x5)
	University lectures (x2)	8	-	-	8	8	3	-
Course module VII: Foreign language	Foreign language	3	-	-	3	3	1.5	-
IN TOTAL:		120	81/80%	20/20%	# 19	43/35.8%	61/50.8%	109/90.8%

* the description of a course syllabus is attached to the study programme

This study programme is effective as of winter semester of the academic year 2022/202